Professor J. S. Luckey spoke on the work at Houghton. He said the great commission had been given to go into all the world and carry the Gospel; that any church or people that refused to obey would certainly fail; that while we had a mountain top experience, the work was always at the base of the mountain; that the tone of the school was "God is with us." Text from Hebrews 13th chapter, 8th verse, "Jesus Christ, the same yesterday, today, and forever." Brother Willett preached a very able sermon. In his remarks he said God never reasoned only as He reasoned with men. God is all-wise and never changes. God's code of morals is always the same; that before the mountains were discovered God was in the flowers; that what God was He is and always will be, and to not only build for today, but to build for eternity, and receive the crown of glory that fadeth not away. This was a great meeting. God was present our souls to greet, and glory crowned the mercy seat.

He said that our nation was carrying on this war from the standpoint of liberty; as a nation we had national rights; as a people we had our personal liberty, and that the bondage of guilt was the worst kind of bondage, and that God does a thorough work and sets His people free.

J. S. Willett exhorted the people to seek God and walk in the light and liberty of the saints of God. This was a gracious service. Benediction by J. S. Willett.

Friday Morning Meeting

The devotional service was led by H. S. Hill. The presence of the Lord was felt.

THE CHAMPLAIN CONFERENCE

The roll was called, to which thirteen Elders, two Licentiates and thirteen Delegates answered to the call of their names.

Minutes of the last session were read and approved, with slight correction.

Name of C. E. Hill was called and character passed.

The Conference gave way for the order of the day, it being the meeting of the Superannuated Ministers' Relief Association. For minutes of the same see Report No. 7.

Conference resumed work.

The Camp Meeting Committee was elected as follows: Our President, Rev. E. D. Carpenter, Chairman of the Committee; the pastors of West Chazy, Mooers, and West Plattsburg, and two laymen, Dr. Walter Stevenson and Leroy Stafford.

Sunday School Secretary H. S. Hill nominated E. L. Elliott as helper in the northern part of the district, and W. F. Lewis for the southern part. The same were elected.

The name of Arthur Baker was called and character passed.

Conference gave way to the order of the day.

J. S. Willett, our Connectional Agent, first spoke in behalf of the mission work. He said our missionaries, Dr. Paine and Sister Barts, had just arrived at Syracuse, and that the Missionary Board was trusting, planning and doing all they could. While the way was blocked to Africa, the way was open to India; that plans were being made to send some missionaries there in June. Financially the missionary work was in the best condition it ever was. Second, he spoke briefly of the educational work. Third, he spoke of the work of the Sunday School; that it should begin with the cradle roll; that every Wesleyan Methodist Sunday School should use our Wesleyan Methodist literature, and that the Wesleyan Methodist paper should be in every Wesleyan home. Fourth, he spoke in behalf of the Liberty Loan, and that at this critical time every Conference should take out bonds as far as they were able. There were amens and a hearty response from the whole congregation to all the different branches of this great work.

The Conference closed because of time limit.

Benediction by O. G. Wyman.

Friday Afternoon Meeting

Song service was led by W. F. Lewis.

The roll was called, to which thirteen Elders, three Licentiates, and fifteen Delegates answered to the call of their names.

WESLEYAN METHODIST CONNECTION

The minutes of the morning session were read and approved.

Names of G. D. Jock and C. C. Hill were called and characters passed.

At the order of the day the Conference Sunday School Secretary's report was given by E. L. Elliott, on account of the illness of F. H. Wright. The report was adopted as read. See Report No. 8.

The Conference voted that the Conference Treasurer should pay the deficiency of three dollars and forty-nine cents.

Professor J. S. Luckey made some remarks on the Sunday School work, and said if we are to succeed we must have some efficient teachers; persons who know and will teach the Book; that the teacher must study and know the child; and to succeed it is necessary to have the ability to hold the attention of the Sunday School class; success depends on the effort we make; the teacher should make a survey of the whole lesson and decide on the main points, and then emphasize those points.

At the close of Professor Luckey's remarks, four diplomas were given as follows: Raymond Barnard, Mrs. Fred Barnard, Mrs. H. S. Hill, Mrs. Edith Potinger. They were presented to H. S. Hill, their teacher.

A motion was made by A. J. Allen that the apportionment on all charges be raised to fifty cents per member on the Conference Budget. After both sides were quite thoroughly discussed, the motion prevailed by a standing vote.

The order of the day having arrived, the song, "He Leadeth Me," was sung. J. S. Willett offered prayer and preached from the Word recorded in Isaiah 54:10, "For the mountains shall depart, and the hills be removed, but my kindness shall not depart from thee, neither shall the covenant of my peace be removed, saith the Lord that hath mercy on thee." The mountains of old Vermont State are the old landmarks, but they shall all depart before the kindness of the Lord shall depart from His people; don't throw away your cross, but take up your cross; rebellion is not redemption, neither is endurance redemption; when Paul repeatedly asked God to remove the thorn, God said, "My grace is sufficient;" when ever God asks His children to bear heavy loads He always comes to help them; God is the soul's friend, and He never turns His back on Israel; God believes in His people, with all their faults; men may lose faith in you, the Church may lose faith in you, but God never loses faith in His child; atonement means the remedy for sin; "My mercy shall not depart," saith God; God's judgments never fall until infinite patience has been exhausted.

There were many hearty amens to this message. At the close Brother Harvey spoke in behalf of the soldier boys.

The roll was called and eleven Elders, three Licentiates, and ten Delegates answered to the call of their names.

The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

The report of the Pastoral Relations Committee was read and accepted as read. See Report No. 10.

Rickert, said he had courage and that he left a good record of his faithfulness. W. F. Lewis spoke next; he said the life of Brother Rickert had always been a great help to him; while he was a great sufferer, he bore it patiently, and was faithful to his call. Brother C. E. Hill spoke in behalf of Sanford Inman, of the meetings they had held together, that souls were saved; Brother Inman was a man that had freedom and liberty in his soul. G. D. Jock then spoke of Brother Inman, that he was a good man, a good neighbor, an ideal Christian, that he was a very successful class leader, that he always discharged his duties faithfully.

C. E. Hill spoke of Hiram Rickert, how he was always faithful to his church and one of his best members. W. A. Lewis spoke of him as a faithful man and a great worker; he always accomplished what he undertook, and as a class leader he always performed his duty.

H. S. Hill spoke in behalf of Miriam C. Sprague; that she was one that had gone out from the church at Chittenden to give her best in the Master's service. He then read a paper, which is here given:

Miriam Churchill Sprague

Among the different places from which our Lord and Saviour has called workers to carry the Gospel to those in darkened lands, Chittenden, Vermont, stands near the head. Nestled in the Green Mountains of Vermont, like Bethlehem, the birthplace of King David and our Saviour, away from the tainted air of the cities, and a place where the air is softened and purified as it blows through the branches of the pine and spruce, here have been born children in humble homes, that have gone out to carry the tidings of salvation to those in foreign lands.

One of the three that have gone as missionaries from the little Wesleyan Church here is Miriam C. Sprague.

On the 27th of December, 1881, there came to the home of Columbus and Elmira Churchill a baby girl whom they named Miriam. When Miriam became old enough her godly parents took her to church and Sunday School, and early in life there came a desire in her heart to be a follower of Christ. She was baptized by Rev. C. E. Hill, then pastor at Forestdale, Vt., and joined her home church in 1902. In the spring of 1904 she, with her mother and two sisters, moved to Houghton where she attended the Seminary, where the writer was then a student in the same classes with her.

There came a time in her experience when God called her to carry the Gospel to the foreign field, and she who "lived not to please herself" said, "Here am I, Lord, I go at Thy command." Shortly before the time of her first term in Africa she was united in holy matrimony to George H. Sprague. Both she and Brother Sprague were sure that God wanted them to unite their lives together in service for Him. In a letter from Brother Sprague to the writer he says: "Why it should have been for only six years I cannot understand, but I am thankful for the six years and for the sweet memories I have, and especially for the blessed hope of a future reunion."

At the time of Sister Sprague's death she was in Africa, serving a second term. She enjoyed better health and accomplished more than during their first term. On Sister Sprague's thirty-sixth birthday her co-laborer and much esteemed friend, Sister Day, passed the line of worlds to be with Jesus. Sister Sprague was saddened by the death of Sister Day, but considered herself in excellent health until the evening of December 31st, when the yellow fever fastened its iron grip on her life, and on January 4th she passed away from the land of darkness and sin to the land of light and glory to reign with Jesus.

Sister Sprague had a beautiful character. Her life of Christian service was a life of victory. "She was always sustained by the positive assurance that her heart and life were pleasing to God," and she was one that lived a life of blessed victory in her soul.

We are living in an age of heroes and heroines. Men on the battlefield in Europe are giving their lives for their country, but today we revere the memory of one who gave her life, not for her country, but to her God that the Gospel might be preached to those in darkened lands. Among those that are honored by our great Commander, King Jesus, will appear the name of Miriam C. Sprague. May her consecrated life of victory and service spur us on to higher and nobler living.

Rev. H. S. Hill,

Pastor of the Wesleyan Methodist Church in Chittenden, Vt.

E. L. Elliott made some touching remarks in behalf of Miriam Sprague. He said they were associated together in their school days, and later they attended the school at Houghton together; that they crossed the water on the same boat; that the last time he saw her was on the mission field in Africa; that she was a hard worker, was in earnest, and could hardly spare time for a vacation when she much needed it, and he was sure the work lost a great deal when it lost this worker.

C. E. Hill spoke of the baptismal service, what a wonderful time it was, and how she asked for the baptism of the Spirit.

Benediction by C. E. Hill.

Conference resumed work.

Names of V. D. Otis and C. A. Heath were called and characters passed.

A report was read of the Macomb charge.

Saturday Evening Meeting

The Saturday evening devotional service was led by A. J. Allen and was a time of inspiration and blessing to many. Many personal testimonies to the saving and keeping power of God were given.

The congregation sang, "The Same Old Way." Scripture lesson was read by F. E. Wood, from the 34th Psalm. Prayer was offered by E. D. Carpenter. Song, "All the Way My Saviour Leads Me," was sung.

The message was brought by F. E. Wood, using as a text Hebrews 4:12 and 13. He spoke forcibly that the Lord seeth; that no evil escapes His all-seeing eye; that God is willing and abundantly able to save us from all sin; that the Word of God reveals to us our sins, and it is the weapon the preacher must use to win souls to God, and if men won't come to church we must go out into the highways and hedges and tell them about the Saviour. He also spoke of the necessity of bringing the children into the kingdom; to bear the Word effectually we must live holy lives. Following the sermon, Brother Wood sang "The Glad Way Home." Benediction by F. E. Wood.

Sunday Morning Meeting

Song, "He Lifted Me," was sung. G. D. Jock and G. N. Wyher offered prayer. The love feast was in charge of A. J. Allen. The 91st Psalm was the lesson read by E. D. Carpenter. Some very interesting comments were made. Song, "Jesus Is All the World to Me," was sung. Brother Allen said he had been in the Champlain Conference nineteen years and had never missed a session; he made many encouraging remarks about his experience, saying that God had always answered his prayers and brought deliverance. Amen! Over one hundred testified in this meeting; many to the saving and sanctifying and keeping of their souls. This was a gracious meeting, marked by the presence of God.

Song, "If Jesus Goes With Me I'll Go," was sung.

Report of the Committee on Resolution of Thanks was read. See Resolution No. 3.

J. S. Willett read the lesson from 1 Peter 5:1-11. Prayer was offered by W. F. Lewis. The President gave the notices of the day. An offering for the pastor for entertaining the Conference was taken, amounting to about $35.00. Amen! Glory!

WESLEYAN METHODIST CONNECTION

The congregation stood and sang "Guide Me, O Thou Great Jehovah."

J. S. Willett preached the ordination sermon from the text found in 1 Peter 5:10, "Make you perfect, stablish, strengthen, settle you." It is God's purpose that our life should not be a defeat. Man is very imperfect, but God's Word teaches that if man will, he may be made perfect; that man has a standard for weights and measures, and God's standard for man is perfection. "Be ye perfect as I am perfect" is His command. God never asks any impossible things of His people. The disgrace of man is he will stay in disgrace when he might be perfect. God measures man not by his gold, but by what he has in his heart, and that opportunity never comes a second time; we must learn to take advantage of the opportunity that comes our way. We will be just as busy in Heaven as we are in this world; a good motto for the Christian is to push; that God wants quality more than He wants quantity. First, is to have; second, to hold; third, to possess. When we meet the conditions, God always does His part; God always uses means to answer the prayers of His people.

Rev. H. S. Hill, pastor of the Wesleyan Methodist Church at Chittenden, Vt., was ordained. This was a blessed service to all present. Benediction by C. E. Hill.

Sunday Afternoon Service

The meeting opened with the Y. M. W. B. song by Brother and Sister Harvey. They also made some very interesting remarks, and showed some of the gods and costumes of the people of India. They sang in the Indian language "Nothing but the Blood of Jesus." Brother Harvey gave an address in the Indian language, and Sister Harvey interpreted it in English. The congregation sang "My Saviour First of All."

The Scripture lesson was read from St. Luke 7th chapter, and prayer was offered by J. J. Davison. Song, "Face to Face," was sung. The message was brought to a large congregation by O. G. Wyman from the text found in Isaiah 66:13, "As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you, and ye shall be comforted." He spoke of the mother side of God; of our mother's love; of the sacred name, mother; the mother state in which we were born, and of our mother nation.

E. D. Carpenter made some touching remarks at the close of the sermon, and urged the people to get right with God. A solo was sung by F. E. Wood, "Can a Boy Forget His Mother's Prayers?" The congregation rose and sang, "Lord, I Am Coming Home," and one soul responded to the invitation of the song, and came to the altar for heart cleansing. God's benediction was on this service.

Sunday Evening Service

E. D. Carpenter had charge of the communion service. Over seventy partook at the Lord's table. Richard Palmer and L. M. Hayes offered prayer. "We Must Travel the Same Old Way" was sung. A Scripture lesson was read from Matthew 25th chapter. C. E. Hill offered prayer.

A. J. Allen was the preacher of the evening. The text used was Revelation 6:17, "The great day of His wrath has come, and who shall be able to stand?" First, it was a great day when the sun made its first appearance across the continent; second, it was a great day when God made the house that the soul of man lives in; third, it was an awful day when the enemy went into the Garden and deceived man and captured him at his will; fourth it was a great day in Judea when the shepherds and wise men found the Christ; fifth, it was a great day at Calvary when the Christ was crucified, and the sun would not give its light. He spoke of the great day for the Negroes when they were set free; that it will be a great day when all the nations gather, and each receives their rewards of eternal destiny. It is a great day when the son goes to war, parting from loved ones. And, lastly, it will be a great day of reunion when the loved ones all return home from the north, from the south, from the east, and from the west, and receive their eternal rewards.

The people stood and sang "Just As I Am." One seeking soul came to the altar. The Spirit of the Lord was on the people.

Brother Carpenter said a few touching words. The song, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," was sung, Benediction by J. S. Willett.

Thus closed another session of Conference that all could heartily say, "Lord, it is good for us to be here."

Report No. 2.

CAMP MEETING COMMITTEE REPORT

The Champlain Conference Camp Meeting, held at West Chazy, N. Y., August, 1917, was a very successful meeting. And what do we mean by a successful religious meeting? A meeting where God's Word is preached under the anointing of the Holy Spirit, and where that Spirit actuates the saints. Other things are of secondary value. In St. Luke's account of Pentecost, the author devotes forty-five verses to the account of the Spirit's descent, the behavior of the Spirit-filled, and to an epitome of Peter's preaching, while only two verses are needed to measure the results.

The preaching at our Camp Meeting last year was Pentecostal. Our evangelists and pastors presented the truth with power. The singing was beautiful because enriched by the Holy Spirit, and God's saints were Spirit-moved. To God be all the glory! Heaven will reveal the numerical results.

The new tabernacle was completed and ready for use August 1. It was dedicated on Sunday, August 24, 1917, Rev. J. J. Coleman preaching the dedicatory sermon. Text, 1 Peter 1:3.

I am compelled to report a slight damage to the new building from the heavy winds and snow. The damage is being repaired and we trust this repair will be permanent. We rejoice in the fact that nearly enough funds were cheerfully given to pay for the new building last year.

We have engaged as workers for the coming Camp Meeting Rev. J. J. Coleman, Professor of Theology at Houghton Seminary, and Rev. S. A. Mow. The singing will be in charge of Brother Mow, assisted by our own Conference workers. All indications point toward an unusually good meeting.

The total amount raised last year was $922.51. Unpaid pledges,

WESLEYAN METHODIST CONNECTION

$83.00. Cash on hand, $300.00. Total expenditures, $1,422.78, leaving a deficit of $117.27. Total cost of tabernacle, $1,125.25.

Various improvements are under way. The roofs on all the Camp buildings have been newly painted. A new platform has been built for the well. Some dead trees have been removed and young trees will soon be taking their places.

Our needs are not all monetary. Every charge in our Conference should have a representative delegation, led by the pastor, at our coming Camp Meeting. This is possible. Discreet planning and real self-denial will make it possible for many to attend the annual Conference Camp Meeting. Your plan should include the Camp Meeting, and you should work your own plan. Let us begin now and make it the best feast our Conference has ever enjoyed.

F. H. Wright,
Secretary of the Camp Meeting Committee.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON MISSIONS

Your Committee on Missions submits the following report:

1. The missionary enterprise of the Christian Church is the most gigantic in scope, the most lofty in purpose, the most unselfish in spirit and the most constructively useful of all the enterprises of world history. It demands our attention. It needs our support. It is of God's own planning. Therefore we cannot neglect it and be free from guilt. We are responsible for what we may do in Christ's service. Failing to do that, we forfeit God's fullest measure of blessing.

2. All the branches of missionary activity are fields of service and means of growth and expansion for the Church. The history of the various branches of the Christian Church demonstrate that those branches which have grown are the ones which have been wisely and aggressively missionary. If our Church as a whole, or any Conference, or any single church, or any individual person, would grow in grace and usefulness, one and all must be missionary in fact. Our usefulness ceases when we cease to minister to others.

3. While the needs of the foreign mission work cannot be over-emphasized, we must not fail to put due emphasis on Home and Conference Missions. It is when the home fires blaze highest and brightest that the fires can be kindled along the front. The advance in foreign missions cannot be made without an adequate home base. By definitely planning and working an aggressive Conference missionary policy we shall be making a stronger home base.

4. We believe this Conference shall raise its present Missionary Budget in full and make provision for a literal working Conference base.

E. L. Elliott.

Report No. 6.

EDUCATION

Missions and Education are the two great benevolent institutions of our Conference and Connection. As to the relative value of these and as to the responsibility involved in them there is no line of differentiation. The same God who, through His Son, said, "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel," said through Paul inspired by the Holy Ghost, "Study." There is a reason for this equality in value. Soul-saving and soul-training cannot be separated. Spirit-unctionized instruction usually precedes intelligent yielding to God, whether that yielding means salvation or service. And the more intelligent the yielding the greater will be the service rendered. Exceptions there may be; but they are exceptions, not the rule.

Evidently our Conference does not believe this. Last year the Conference contributed $890.48 for missions and $605.20 for education. Both sums are meager enough, but why such discrimination? The Connection makes an equal apportionment to each local church. The reasons are varied. The missionary appeal stirs the emotions of men and women, and they act on their emotions. Childless individuals rarely cultivate a desire to see the children of the Church educated in a Christian institution of learning, placing greater value upon a so-called civilization based upon religion than upon one based on religion and education. There is also a lack of knowledge on the part of our people concerning our educational work. When you read the missionary columns in the church paper and lay it aside not having acquainted yourself with the educational situation, you have made yourself sadly one-sided. The dusky child must be reached by the Gospel. To close our hearts to the appeal from the outstretched hands of our dusky brother's child is to cut us off at once from the favor of God. The incoming of God's mighty, surging, soul-permeating love makes such an attitude toward the lost and darkened races an absolute impossibility. But what about our own flesh and blood who need training for service? What about the vast, pent-up potentialities latent in our Wesleyan young people? Would Sister Miriam Day, of precious memory, ever have found her place of service without Houghton Seminary? Look at your missionary forces today and think; then give of your means and men to our great educational interests of the Church. Not less for the missionary work, but at least an equality for the educational work.

Now, we have local needs. Our young ministers need help in pursuing the Conference course. We need the stimulation that would be ours from the exchange of thought. The danger of mental stagnation can be averted. We can hold Ministerial Associations, Holiness Conventions, Sunday School Conventions, and do Institute work in connection with our Annual Camp Meetings. These advanced steps would result in increased efficiency in service.

F. H. Wright,
Committee on Education.

REPORT OF CONFERENCE SUNDAY SCHOOL SECRETARY

Again we have closed a year of successful work in our Sunday Schools. The co-operation of the District Superintendents, the encouraging suggestions of our Connectional Secretary, the ever increasing faithfulness of our loyal ministry would make failure impossible. And God has blessed the work.

But one Sunday School Convention has been held this year, but that one was good. We met with the Mooers Wesleyan Methodist Church. The papers, discussions, etc., were really inspiring. A holiness convention was held in connection with that of the Sunday School, thus giving an opportunity for the presentation of this all-important subject.

It was my privilege to attend the State Convention held at Syracuse, N. Y. The inspiration and knowledge gained have constantly helped me in my work and I have shared the same with many of my fellow-workers. At the request of our Conference President I was privileged to spend a Sabbath with the Wesleyan Methodist Church at Glens Falls, and while there presented our Sunday School needs and goals. I found a ready response and willingness to work toward our efficiency standard.

We have as a fruition of our year's work the privilege of graduating five choice individuals in the Teacher's Training Department. Much credit is due Rev. H. S. Hill for his indefatigable courage and perseverance in teaching his class and bringing them to a successful finish. The graduates have done very excellent work and it is with unusual pleasure that we present them to you: Rev. and Mrs. H. S. Hill, Mrs. Mary E. Barnard, Raymond S. Barnard, and Mrs. Edith B. Potteiger.

Financially, the work is a failure. Only three Sunday Schools have contributed to the work. The total income for the year is $9.46. Cash on hand at beginning of year, $13.37. Expenses, $26.32. Deficit, $3.49.

I still love the work. The self-denial has been a delight.

F. H. Wright,
Conference Sunday School Secretary.
