THE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE of the Indiana Conference of The Wesleyan Methodist Church August 11, 1964

The Judiciary Committee, having received from the president and his Advisory Board a complaint against the character of ELDER JAMES A. ROOK, made full investigation and came to the conclusion that the complaint should be submitted for trial. Elder Rook, personally, was cited to appear between the dates of May 15 and May 25, 1964, so that the complaint could be proved or disproved. Mr. Rook was informed that the Judiciary Committee would make every effort to secure for him a fair trial. Before May 15, 1964, Mr. Rook, according to the best information secured by the Judiciary Committee, vacated the parsonage and left for parts unknown. (See Discipline, paragraph 265.) Because of the principle stated in paragraph 485 ("the removal of the accused person beyond the jurisdiction of the judicature during the pending trial shall be deemed presumptive proof of guilt, unless satisfactory evidence be presented of inability to be present"), and because Mr. Rook, could not be contacted nor presented himself for trial by or before May 25, it is the judgment of this Committee that the evidence points to an admission of guilt, and this Committee recommends that the Annual Conference deprive Elder James A. Rook of Ministerial Office and Credentials (See paragraph 489).

A. Houses of Worship:

Our houses of worship should not be open to any evangelist or ministers of any other church to hold a series of meetings or to maintain regular appointments for another congregation; provided, however, that usual denominational courtesies be extended to other ministers in occasional appointments. A waiving of the above by a contract or lease of building must be obtained through the Board of Trustees of the Indiana Conference.

B. Pastoral support:

1. All charges should in addition to the regular stipulated salary, assume the responsibility of providing a suitable home in which the pastor may live, a heating plant for that home, and, also, payment of utilities, including fuel, electricity, water, water-conditioning, and sewage, also the pastor's medical, surgical and hospitalization insurance premium "and at least one-half Social Security." The parsonage telephone, except for personal long-distance calls, shall be considered as church incidental expense and paid for by the church.

2. All charges and stations to which a pastor shall move shall pay the moving and transportation expenses of said pastor, the same to be done in addition to his salary. When the Conference demands the services of any one, it shall bear the moving expenses, if any expense shall be incurred.

3. Each charge should grant their pastor each year two weeks' vacation with pay.

C. Pulpit Supply:

1. No charge shall call any one as pastor, or to supply the work by ministers coming from other denominations as long as there are ministers in our Conference qualified and available to take work. The President after he has exercised his prerogative in the reception of ministers coming from other denominations is to immediately refer them to the Committee on Itineracy and Elders' Orders, who shall make a thorough investigation as to the ministry and life of such applicants, who shall report their findings to the President, after which appointments may be made.

2. It is recommended that churches giving a vote for recall of their pastor, vote on or between the third and fourth Sundays of May.

D. Annual Business:

The Annual business meeting of the local church, which is referred to in Par. 165 (4) of the Discipline, shall be held during the month of June.

Supt., the church treasurer, the president of the WMS, the president of the WY, the first member of the advisory committee, the chairman of the Board of Stewards, the chairman of the pulpit supply committee and other leaders or committee members as the church may deem advisable.

2. The pastor may call the council together monthly or as many times during the Conference year as deemed advisable. The council may initiate business, make referrals, listen to reports, and serve in an advisory capacity for the entire church program. The Boards of the church shall continue to function as specified by the Discipline and in no way should this council displace any other committee or board nor assume any authority vested in any other committee.

3. When such a council exists, it should be the duty of the council to meet with the conference officials at least one time during the Conference year when the official visits the church to discuss problems and ideas which have to do with the better operation of the local church.

F. Newly Organized Churches:

Conference Budget shall not be assigned a newly organized church until one year from the end of the fiscal year in which they are organized.

II. PASTORAL DUTIES

1. It is the duty of the pastors to look after the insurance of our church and parsonage properties. All insurance shall provide for losses caused by fire, lightning, hail and tornado. A failure on the part of the pastor shall be a censurable offense. If the church fails to insure their property upon reasonable effort of the pastor to secure the same, then said failure shall be reported to the President of the Conference who shall then have the property insured. In such cases all insurance monies received from losses by fire, lightning, hail and tornado shall be used in Church Extension work as the Conference Board of Trustees considers best.

B. Statistics:

All members in excess of the number reported shall be reported as received.

1. Each pastor whose total receipts from his charge exceeds $4000 per year should seek to start a new work or make his services available for a revival meeting in a new or weaker church to help establish it. A weaker church shall be considered as one whose pastor's receipts are $2500 or less. The charge which he pastors should grant him such privilege without censure, with full remuneration of salary while in such a meeting. The church to which he goes should defray his traveling expenses and should receive regular offerings during the meetings for the establishing of their own work. The Vice Presidents shall serve as coordinators of this plan by recommending and helping to arrange such meetings.

2. All pastors should seek the council of the church advisory committee when a revival meeting away from the church is anticipated. No pastor should hold more than two revival meetings away from his charge unless by the consent of the Conference President.

F. Summer Camping Program:

1. All full-time pastors and pastor's wives shall offer their services and be granted time by their churches to help in the Youth and/or Junior Bible Camps unless excused by the President. This would not deduct from vacation, revival time, or salary.

During such visitation the official shall meet with the pastor for the purpose of counsel, studying the local work, and giving and discussing promotion in interest of local and conference work. The conference official shall meet with the church Council or committee for the purpose of presenting plans of promotion in the interest of local and conference work.

With the counsel of the President, they shall determine where and when to hold revival meetings in a new or weaker church. They shall also determine the length of such meetings and the number of such meetings each Vice President should hold during each quarter. The offerings received during such meetings, unless raised for a local project or for Conference Extension, shall be turned to the Conference Treasurer and placed in the Conference Operating Fund. The Vice Presidents should keep in close contact with those churches in their area receiving Conference support by visiting them at least once a quarter with the aim of making them self-supporting as quickly as possible. They should promote church extension in their visitation and should see that funds are raised for that purpose. And they should work with the Board on Conference Extension and Evangelism in the planning of new works and have as a goal the organizing of at least one new church in each area during the Conference year.

4. In view of the great need of our local churches for close guidance in the work of Sunday schools and Wesleyan Youth, we recommend that our Conference Officials do what they can in visiting the churches to promote better organization, greater activity, and more consistent growth in these important fields. To this end we recommend that the three Officials designate one of the Vice Presidents to work especially in the area of Sunday schools and the other to work in the area of Wesleyan Youth. It shall be the duty of the first to meet with the Conference Sunday School Board and of the second with the Wesleyan Youth executive committee, and to counsel and aid them in their work. The contribution of the Vice Presidents shall be made especially in the areas of promotion and visitation. In carrying out this part of their duties, they shall not be limited to the geographical areas to which they are assigned. As they shall deem wise, special periods of time may be blocked off for local Sunday school or youth clinics, district conventions, and rallies, etc. In the matter of conference-wide promotional mailings, it shall be the responsibility of the organization involved to pay the cost of secretarial help and postage. The labors of the two Vice Presidents shall in no way relieve the Conference Sunday School Board or the Wesleyan Youth executive committee of their responsibility for the direction and promotion of their respective spheres of interest.

5. The President shall call a meeting of the ministers and their wives in the different parts of the conference during the conference year. The purpose of this meeting is to promote the work of the conference. The President shall set forth goals, suggest means of attaining these goals and in general seek to promote a greater interest in the Conference program. (Conference appointments shall be understood to consist of pastors, conference evangelists, only, in full-time work, conference officials, general conference officials, or those employed by the General Board of Administration.) Those Superannuates receiving hospitalization benefits at the present time shall continue to do so.

7. The President and Vice Presidents shall be consulted before any love offerings are taken during the annual encampment.

8. When the churches which have been placed in the hands of the President decide as to who shall be their pastor before the Minutes are sent to press, the same shall be entered in the Minutes as if ordered by this conference.

Report No. 7
REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON MINISTERIAL REPLACEMENT NEEDS

A study of the Minutes of the Indiana Conference from 1953 to 1963 reveals that at the close of this decade 125 men who had served the conference as pastors sometime during this period were no longer doing so. A breakdown of this total reveals the following:

To other conference	23
To other labors	21
Reserve list	19
Superannuated	15
Returned to quarterly conference	11
Granted letters of standing	8
Deceased	7
Unstationed list	6
Miscellaneous or unknown	6
Surrendered credentials	3
Dropped at own request	2
Never joined our conference	2
To another denomination	1
Withdrawn	1

In addition to this, a large group of men who had not pastored here transferred to other conferences (8 elders, 10 conference preachers, and 9 local preachers enrolled in the course of study), or took letters of standing (4 elders), or transferred to other denominations (at least 3 local preachers).

This number rather shocked us. The only two conferences in our denomination comparable to Indiana in size are North Carolina and Allegheny. We attempted a quick, rather superficial study of their Minutes to see whether our situation was unusual. North Carolina's experience was complicated by its having given birth to the Virginia Conference during the decade. As a result only its record for the first five years was used. From 1953-58 during which North Carolina had a few more pastors than Indiana, its replacement need totalled 50, or an average of 10 per year. From 1953 to 1963, Allegheny, with slightly fewer pastors than Indiana, had a total replacement need of 62 or 6.2 per year. This was in spite of a stepped up dropout rate in the last 2 or 3 years of the decade. By comparison, Indiana's replacement needs averaged 12.5 per year. The difference between Allegheny and Indiana was marked; between North Carolina and Indiana it was less significant. The difference showed up much more strikingly in the reasons for the losses. While these could not be determined as accurately for the other two conferences as for Indiana, the heavy losses of Indiana to "other labors" and "to other conferences" were far greater than for the other two conference—apparently considerably more than both of them put together.

Our instructions from the conference were to survey those who had left the pastoral ministry of our conference in an effort to analyze the reasons. In preparing our mailing list, we eliminated from consideration the deceased, the superannuated, most of those serving at other labors on a denominational or conference level, and a few others whose particular situation held no promise of contributing to our study. We added those other elders and conference preachers who did not pastor here during the decade but who transferred to pastorates in other conferences. This brought the list to 90 individuals. Following is a copy of the questionnaire which was sent, and a summary of the 52 responses which we received. (Not all who responded filled out the questionnaire itself, and of those who did, not all responded to every question.)

QUESTIONNAIRE ON CHANGE OF EMPLOYMENT AMONG MINISTERS OF THE INDIANA CONFERENCE

Name _____ Age (6 in their 20's; 18 in their 30's; 12 in their 40's; 12 in their 50's; 2 in their 60's)

Address _____

Present Employment (24 still in the ministry in some form, 23 in secular employment)

Name of your original "home" conference (38 Indiana, 6 other conference).

Are you a member of one of the churches of the Indiana Conference? (Yes—21, No—27) Have you ever been? (27 Yes, 1 No) How many years? (5 yrs. or less—8; 6-10 yrs.—8; 11-15 yrs.—8; 16-20 yrs.—10; 21-25 yrs.—4; 26 yrs and up—5)

Were you ever a student at Marion College? (39 Yes, 13 No) For how long? (5 years—6; 4 years—19; 3 years—6; 2 years—3; 1 year—2; 0 years—13)

Did Marion College encourage you to plan for service in The Wesleyan Methodist Church? (23 Yes; 11 No) In the Indiana Conference? (7 Yes; 21 No) Explain: Some pointed out that Marion College serves the entire church, does not show preference for any particular conference.

Did you do some of your work at another college or seminary? (32 Yes; 15 No) Where? (Other colleges—24; Seminary—8) For how long?

Years	1	2	3	4	5
Sem. or grad. school	5	3	4	1	1
College	5	2	5	3	2

Did you do part of your work through the course of study, and how much of it? (32—None; 11—Part; 6—All)

Did you ever serve in the Indiana Conference? (45 Yes; 5 No) In what capacity? (Pastor—41; Asst. Pastor—2; Pastor & Evang.—2) For how many years? (up to 5 yrs.—21; 6-10 yrs.—13; 11-15 yrs.—5; 16 and up—4)

If you haven't served the Indiana Conference, have you sought employment there? (6 Yes; 2 No)

Did the Indiana Conference express a genuine interest in you, and a sincere desire to provide you with a field of service? (22 Yes; 4 qualified Yes; 16 No)

Have you ever felt that there was a challenging opportunity to serve in the Indiana Conference? (30 Yes; 1 qualified Yes; 12 No)

Check the statement which best describes your call to preach:

(11) I was convinced that I must preach or be lost.

(24) I was as certain of my call as I was of my salvation.

(14) I had a general call to Christian service.

(0) I had no definite call.

If you have pastored in the Indiana Conference, check the word which best describes your experience of church-pastor relationships:

Excellent (16*) Satisfactory (19) Poor (4) Impossible (*)

*One pastor indicated all "excellent" but the last 5½ months "impossible."

Read carefully each of the following statements and then evaluate each one as to its importance in your decision to change employment or to find it elsewhere than on the pastorate in the Indiana Conference, by checking the proper brackets.

	The main reason	Had some bearing	Made no differ- ence
1. My mental or physical health required a change of employment.	(6)	(5)	(28)
2. The mental or physical health of another member of my family required a change of employment.	(3)	(7)	(27)
3. In spite of my call, I encountered so much difficulty I was convinced I should quit.	(2)	(2)	(32)
4. I realized I was mistaken about my call.	(1)	(0)	(32)
5. I found that I did not agree sufficiently with the doctrines of The Wesleyan Methodist Church.	(0)	(2)	(33)
6. The denominational plan of government makes the pastor a leader in name only.	(2)	(6)	(30)
7. I found that it was impossible to support my family properly on the salaries paid in the Indiana Conference.	(5)	(15)	(15)
8. There was a lack of proper support and co-operation from conference leaders.	(5)	(11)	(11)
9. I felt the Indiana Conference was too strict about externals, social activities, etc.	(0)	(10)	(25)

- | | | | |
|---|-------|-------|------|
| 10. I felt the Indiana Conference was not strict enough. | (2) | (1) | (30) |
| 11. I became convinced there was a greater opportunity for service elsewhere. | (15) | (8) | (12) |
| 12. Other leaders contacted me and enticed me with what appeared to be a greater challenge. | (2) | (5) | (28) |
| 13. I had always intended to return to my original "home" conference. | (3) | (3) | (23) |

Summarizing the response to the last 13 statements by totalling the number of responses which marked each one as contributing in some manner to the decision to change employment, we find the following:

Greater opportunity elsewhere	23
Health of minister or member of family	21
Inadequate salaries	20
Lack of support from conference leaders	16
Conference too strict	10
Pastor a leader in name only	8
Enticed by other leaders	7
Had always intended to return to home conference	6
Difficulties caused him to quit	4
Conference not strict enough	3
Did not agree sufficiently with doctrine	2
Mistaken about call	1

The survey as a whole gives us a rough sketch of the typical Indiana "dropout." The chance is 50-50 he is still in the ministry. He is either a young man or just reaching his prime years of service. He is a product of one of our Indiana churches, having been a member for longer than 10 years. He has considerable formal training for the ministry. He has served an Indiana pastorate for about 5 years. The chance is 50-50 that he believes the conference was sincerely interested in his ministry, and better than 50-50 that he felt there was a real challenge in Indiana. He had a definite call to preach, and had very good relationships with the pastorates he served. His reason for leaving almost certainly revolved around one of the top four listed above: greater opportunity elsewhere, his own health or that of some member of his family, inadequate salaries, or lack of support from conference leaders.

OBSERVATIONS

1. We must be careful in studying our problem not to limit ourselves to the symptoms and forget the root cause of the disease. A Conference-wide revival would be the best possible solution to this entire matter. The Holy Spirit, resting upon the church and presiding over it, will help it to multiply, providing more men for the ministry and more money to support them. Spirit-inspired revival will cause more men to answer God's call, more ministers to devote themselves sacrificially to their all-important task. Spirit-inspired revival will enhance the opportunities in our conference and make it a more inviting field of service. Spirit-inspired revival will decrease the tensions that break our ministers' health, that frustrate their efforts, and that cause misunderstandings between them and conference leaders. Spirit-inspired revival will put more love in the hearts of pastors and people, changing their relationship from that of employee-employer to that of a shepherd and his sheep. Spirit-inspired revival will move a church to stronger support of its pastor, both spiritually and financially. For such a revival we must pray and believe.

2. But while we are praying for such a revival, we must also be doing all we can to remedy the situation. As we pray for God's help in this matter, He will give us guidance, and we believe He is already doing so. The typical "dropout" described above is not to be lightly cast aside. He is a desirable candidate for the pulpits of any conference. If we can encourage him to fulfill his divine call, we must do so. If we can challenge him to invest himself fully in the work of our conference, we will help build our Zion by doing so.

3. It is to be expected that in a large conference such as ours, there will be men who attempt to enter the ministry who are not called to the ministry nor suited for it. Others who are called, equipped, and trained, will be forced to leave the active ranks for a variety of causes. Many of these men are as sincere, as devoted to the Lord, as zealous for His cause as any among us. We must not fasten a reproach upon them, nor consider them deserters from the cause. We must pray for them, help them to take their place among us as best they can, and leave their call and response to them and the Lord. As Jesus replied to Peter's queries about John, "What is that to thee? Follow thou me" (John 21:22).

4. We view with alarm the fact that the dropout is predominantly a man well trained for the ministry. While only slightly over one-half of our present pastors have ever been students at Marion College, three-fourths of the dropouts have been students at M.C., one-half have graduated there, and one-fourth have done graduate work. The dropouts include twice as many seminary graduates as are now serving in our conference. It is no accident that the same decade that has seen such an exodus of well trained men has also seen a decline in the proportion of Marion graduates among our pastors—from 41% in 1953 to 34% in 1963. This is taking place in the face of a rising level of education among the masses and the call for a better trained ministry by our general leaders. It carries with it the dangerous possibility that our pastors will become increasingly disinterested in our college where Wesleyan pastors are prepared by Wesleyan teachers.

5. There are certain cautions which must be exercised in evaluating our survey. Men who feel strongly enough about conditions to leave and also to reply to a questionnaire will quite naturally give an exaggerated view of the factors involved. Their view is a much needed one. But it must be tempered a bit. As a specific example, the rather adverse reaction to conference policies which ranked fourth among the causes for dropouts should not be interpreted as proving the incompetence of our conference officials, either past or present. There are bound to be instances in which pastors make mistakes, instances in which conference leaders cannot support them. Some such instances are reflected in the survey. On the other hand, there are policies which have developed across the years which may need to be restudied. These do not reflect personally on our leaders but they can make it difficult for them to meet each situation with the freedom of action needed.

6. One question we must face unflinchingly. Is the Indiana Conference the field of opportunity it ought to be? More men marked the "greater opportunity . . . elsewhere" statement as a factor in their decision than marked any other factor. At first this may seem strange. Indiana is the largest conference in our church. It raises the most money. It is the hub of denominational life. But a closer examination of the statistics reported to the 1963 General Conference reveals in cold facts why Indiana is not more attractive to its young ministers. It is the largest conference, but it has been on a membership plateau of 4000 plus for 50 years. Its local churches rank 5th in the denomination in average membership (and the average local church in Indiana is growing smaller) and 4th in average attendance per Sunday school. But the financial picture is even worse. Indiana ranks 9th in average total disbursements for each local church, 9th in the average value of its church and parsonage buildings, 8th in the average total support of its pastors, and 13th in the average cash salary of its pastors. Its growth rate is slow, its per capita giving lower than many other conferences. For all of its glorious history, Indiana must confess that many of its smaller sister conferences can offer its ministerial candidates more modern buildings, larger congregations, better salaries, and what the survey shows is even more important, the likelihood of more fruitful service. How can this situation be changed? The full answer lies outside the sphere of this report. The revival mentioned above is fundamental. There must be growth on the local level. But there are also some matters in which the conference can take action.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. We recommend that our conference officials prepare a brochure pointing out the real challenges of the Indiana Conference for distribution at Youth Camp, among theological students at Marion College, and at Asbury Theological Seminary. This brochure should capitalize on the conference's success in winning more Wesleyans per square mile than any other area in the United States. It should share some of the success stories of our conference: rural churches that have become dynamic congregations, the Marion story with Wesleyan Methodism standing near the top in denominational strength in an industrial community, city churches that have shown real growth, and pioneer works that have rapidly developed into strong churches. It should point out the large areas which still need Wesleyan churches, including the metropolitan complex of the Calumet area, the suburbs of South Bend, Fort Wayne, and Indianapolis, and the unoccupied county seats. It should show what is being done in the conference extension and set some goals which will involve the prospective minister. We further recommend that the conference officials be authorized to employ competent technical assistance in the preparation of the brochure.

2. We recommend that our conference commit itself to the ideal of a full-time ministry receiving full-time support and that we take the following steps toward that ideal:

- A. As soon as possible this year, each pastor and local board of stewards will meet with one of the conference officials for the purpose of agreeing together on what will constitute a full-time salary in their particular situation. Local factors, such as the cost of living, the average income of the congregation, the size of the pastor's family, etc., will all be taken into consideration. Once agreed upon, the church will be committed to work toward this goal as rapidly as possible. Once the church reaches its goal, the pastor will be committed to devote himself full time to the work of the church. This agreement will need to be reviewed periodically when any two of the three parties involved shall so request.

3. We recommend that our conference president contact the other conference presidents of our area, the president of Marion College, and the chairman of the department of ministerial training at Marion College in an effort to bring about definite encouragement of Marion College graduates to serve in the conferences of our area. We do not expect Marion College to favor us over our sister conferences. We do ask for equal treatment for all concerned, and for the opportunity to present the brochure on the Indiana challenge to all theological students.

4. We recommend that the conference go on record as asking its officials to exercise a stronger and more direct leadership than has been the policy of the past few decades. In 1887, when Indiana first elected a full-time president, it designated him as the superintendent of the conference. It directed him to travel over and superintend the conference, looking after the church property, raising funds for church buildings, appointing pastors where needed, suspending pastors if they were guilty of wrong conduct, suspending churches from a voice in their circuits if they did not properly support their pastors, exercising all the powers of the conference between its sessions, and directed him in his general travels to give "to pastors and churches any instructions he may see they need." The present Discipline, paragraphs 230, 232, 235 supports such a concept of strong authority. In fact, his decisions on questions arising in the administration of the laws of the church are final, subject only to appeal to the Conference itself or to the Board of General Superintendents. We invite our officials to put into effect this policy of strong leadership, counseling pastors, and churches in every area which needs attention—whether asked or not, asserting the Conference's authority over the local church (Discipline, paragraph 223), taking an active part in enlisting the qualified pastors we need and in securing the employment of the right man by the right church.

Report No. 14REPORT OF THE SUNDAY SCHOOL BOARD

Praises be to our God for His blessings on the Indiana Conference Sunday school program of the year just passed!

CONVENTION

The Conference-wide Sunday school convention held last September 21 at Marion Hillside Church was a time of inspiration and instruction. Some six hundred persons crowded the sanctuary in the general sessions and overflowed rooms in workshop meetings. Denominational and interdenominational leaders challenged hearts with the Sunday school message.

CONTEST

The Sunday school contest of last spring saw a number of churches posting significant gains as a direct result of their participation in the three areas of the contest: (1) Attendance in Sunday school. (2) Staying for Worship. (3) Visitation. Awards and recognition were given to winners and runners-up in each group. It is felt that the scoring system for the contest can be improved, and this is planned for the contest next spring.

JUNIOR BIBLE CAMP

The Junior Bible Camp was successfully divided this year. The combined registration of the two Junior Bible Camps was five hundred and two, for an increase of forty-eight over last year's camp. Perhaps as many as two hundred of these children knelt at the altar seeking God's help in their young lives.

We believe that the camping program is a feeder for the church, and therefore deserves the help of every minister, minister's wife, and layman who could be free to come to the campground. Your Board sought long and earnestly for enough help to run the encampments. We just made it.

If there should be any lessening of assistance, we will be in serious difficulty. More help is earnestly asked. Especially, more help from the men is needed.

GAINS

Twenty-three churches scored at least a ten percent gain in Sunday school average attendance for the Conference year. The total of the average attendances of the Conference this year was 10,116.

LOOKING AHEAD

Looking ahead into our Sunday school program for the Conference year, your attention and prayers are asked for the following:

Conference-wide, Sunday school convention, Saturday, September 19, at College Church.

Rally Day, October 4.

Sunday School Crusade for Souls, October 11 to November 22.

Conference Sunday school contest, March 7 to May 9, 1965.

Junior Bible Camps: For districts 1, 3, 5, 7, 9 July 12-16; and for districts 2, 4, 6, 8, 10 July 19-23.

Report No. 15

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS

WHEREAS the Wesleyan doctrine stresses Scriptural holiness, and since doctrine is no stronger than its practice,

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that our church stress the practice of these doctrines in all areas of life, both public and private.

SABBATH OBSERVANCE

BE IT RESOLVED that we stress Sabbath worship as a family at both morning and evening services.

BE IT RESOLVED that we voice our protest against needless buying and selling on Sunday, recognizing that the Lord's Day is a Holy day rather than a holiday.

CHRISTIAN CONDUCT

BE IT RESOLVED that our laity, as well as our ministers, set the example of proper attire in the home and in public.

BE IT RESOLVED that we endeavor to safeguard our homes against unwholesome literature, both in periodical and book form, and that we strengthen the home by subscription to the Wesleyan literature.

CHURCH LOYALTY

BE IT RESOLVED that because of the alarming increase of materialism and secularism within our ranks, we Wesleyan Methodists carefully guard our God-given freedoms by maintaining family devotions, by regular attendance at all services of our church, and by loyally supporting our leaders with our prayers and faithful service.

Report No. 1

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

To the 75th annual session of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Indiana Conference of 1964. Christian Greetings!

"Oh magnify the Lord with me, and let us exalt his name together!" Psalm 34:3.

Under the providence of God we have gathered together another time to worship the Lord, to hear reports and to work out plans to help "Prepare the King's Highway."

Your president feels so unworthy when she realizes that women of great vision have preceded her to this hour. Oh, may their mantle fall upon the handmaiden of the Lord. May we as members of the Woman's Missionary Society be as self-sacrificing, as energetic, as wise and considerate and may we have a vision and be led by the Spirit of the Lord as our sisters who have trod the path before us.

It was my happy privilege to be in a missionary workshop in the early spring. One statement, made by the leader of this group, has stuck with me so forcibly that I have not been able to move it out of my thinking. I wish to share it with you. "If your church has not produced a missionary or a pastor or Christian worker in the last 10 years, no matter what your status may be, do not consider it a missionary church." A strong statement. I have been asking God to help the women of the Indiana Conference to help pray workers out into the great harvest field.

We are anticipating a feast of good things this week. Reverend and Mrs. Marion Birch, returned missionaries to Africa, will be with us. They will be speaking to us in Bethel Tabernacle, Wednesday at 1:00 p.m.

We will be commemorating the Indiana Woman's Missionary Society's Diamond Jubilee with a program entitled "Thru the Years in Indiana WMS," Wednesday afternoon, August 12, at 2:30 p.m. I am much indebted to Mrs. Maxine Haines for preparing the skits that will be given in this service. Friday evening will be a great climax of our services with a great Cantata "THE GREATEST STORY YET UNTOLD" sung by a 100-voice choir, directed by Professor Herman Baker.

There were nine special projects promoted this year. Land for Japan, Furnishings for Shatford Hall at Marion College, Chamberlin's preparation for Haiti, Linens for the hospital in Africa, Operation Helping-hand for Haiti, White Christmas Offering, The Bible School in South America presented by Rev. Robert Crosby, Self-Denial Offering, and Honorary Enrollment. The total amount raised for these projects was $10,163.57.

I am happy to report to you that we had a gain in at least three areas. Membership, net gain of 130; Missionary Magazine 82; and in funds of cash receipts $6,167.59.

Respectfully submitted,
Kathryn Beaver, President

VI. RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. Where, there is a tendency to drift aimlessly without a set goal in view, we make a recommendation that each society strive to get on the Honor Roll (85%) by adhering to the Plan of Work or the efficiency standard.
 2. That we try to reach out in our missionary and evangelistic effort, by observing one monthly meeting perhaps in the month of September as guest day, in cooperation with your first membership drive, at which time each member invites a guest; some woman who might become interested in the society.
 3. Whereas, there is a large number of our ladies who do not attend our missionary meetings because of time conflicts, we advise the use of the circle plan. See page 6 of the WMS Handbook.
 4. That an offering be received for the Servicemen's Department in the month of May. (See pastor for information.)
 5. The delegate be instructed concerning the College Project Pledge and the World Missions Pledge.
 6. Each society cooperate with their District Chairman in the care and furnishing of the dormitory rooms.
 7. We also recommend that we have Tuesday 6 a.m. prayer fellowship with Ministers' wives.
 8. That each society promote the Community Missions Program under the supervision of the local Vice President. (Materials will be sent to each president from Mrs. Elizabeth McIntyre, Director of Community Missions.)
 9. That each society promote the project of Christian Outreach, under the direction of the Work Director. (Note: Item III—Service in Plan of Work.)
 10. We further recommend that the following give a brief report at each monthly WMS meeting: Treasurer, YMWB Superintendent, Magazine Solicitor, WWF Secretary, Reading Course Secretary, and Membership Chairman.
 11. That each society use the Plan of Work constantly as a guide.
- Stipulation for attaining the recognition of achievement award:
 Resolved: That a society eligible for the award for membership, magazine subscriptions or finance show a consistent gain for the past 3 years in any of these areas.

The report is to represent work done in the current year.
